

The disciples of Jesus were so full of joy they ran out into the streets to tell everyone that Jesus was alive! They wanted the whole world to know, not just the people in Jerusalem. Stephen was a good man, full of the Holy Spirit's power. When he spoke, the numbers of believers grew even more.